

Philology in Practice: A Workshop with Professor Kenneth G. Zysk

Stray leaf from an unidentified manuscript on the correlation between karma and disease. Rajasthan, 17th century. Sanskrit Beta 1469, Wellcome Library, London.

JOIN US for a three-day workshop focused on reading primary source manuscripts in Sanskrit. Led by renowned Indologist Professor Kenneth G. Zysk, this workshop will provide an overview of different genres of premodern Indian knowledge systems.

Each day, scholars will present textual material from their own field of expertise and guide participants in reading the original Sanskrit together. Whether you're a seasoned Sanskrit scholar or just starting your journey, this workshop offers a unique opportunity to engage with ancient texts and deepen your understanding of Indian intellectual history. Even if you have no prior experience with Sanskrit, you're encouraged to attend and participate.

All are welcome, particularly students of philology and ancient studies.

SCAN THE QR CODE TO GO TO THE OVERVIEW PAGE FOR UPDATES:

MONDAY, OCT 7, 2024 · 9:30–12:30
TUESDAY, OCT 8, 2024 · 9:30–12:30
WEDNESDAY, OCT 9, 2024 · 14:30–17:30

ROOM ON MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY:
ROOM V005, VILLA BUILDING
MPIWG, HARNACKSTRASSE 5
14195 BERLIN

ROOM ON TUESDAY:
ROOM 265, MPIWG MAIN BUILDING
BOLTZMANNSTRASSE 22
14195 BERLIN

TO REGISTER FOR THE EVENT, PLEASE EMAIL ASTRA@MPIWG-BERLIN.MPG.DE, PROVIDING YOUR NAME AND AFFILIATION BY THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 2024.